

WE NEED AN UNREAL ENGINEER TO PICK UP WHERE OURS LEFT OFF.

Blueprints and Metasounds in Unreal Engine (potential future need for C++). Real-time audio and haptics. Unpaid today — equity and a full-time seat are the intent once we raise.

ECHOSCAPE is an interactive meditation experience. You put on headphones, pick up a controller, close your eyes, and sculpt a living soundscape in real time. No narrator, no guided session, and nobody telling you to sit still and breathe. It started as an MFA thesis at Syracuse and has been tested on real people ever since.

WHERE THINGS STAND

The prototype was built in Max/MSP, and the port to Unreal is already underway. Our developer recently had to step away for personal reasons, so we are looking for someone to pick up the build and carry it through to a shippable vertical slice.

THE ROLE

- Pick up the existing Unreal build and carry it to a Steam-ready vertical slice.
 - Build the controller-to-sound system: sticks, triggers, and gyro driving live audio modulators.
 - Haptic patterns that track the soundscape.
 - An input layer that ports cleanly to other gamepads, keyboard and mouse, and later touch.
 - Session flow, settings, save, and packaging for PC and Mac.
- Bonus: MetaSounds, Wwise or FMOD, spatial audio or DSP, DualSense haptics, or anything you have shipped on Steam.

WHY IT IS WORTH IT

- The work is real. A tested prototype exists, and the Unreal build is already underway.
- It has been in front of people. A 360° spatial-audio installation ran at The Vault at Colgate University, and 97% of surveyed testers reported feeling calmer.
- The category is open. Nothing on Steam combines spatial audio, controller input, and a real game loop.
- You would own the architecture — real authorship, real say, and a credit that means something.

WHO YOU'D BE WORKING WITH

Mike Ahearn Wilcox (Technical Events Manager at Colgate University) — Founder & Creator. MFA, Syracuse. Built the prototype; owns sound and creative direction.

He is joined by a small team of industry professionals from gaming and startups, with decades of experience building businesses.

THE HONEST PART

COMMITMENT

3-5 hours a week, remote, on two-week sprints.

COMPENSATION

None right now. Nobody is paid, founder included.

THE UPSIDE

MVP first, then an angel raise. Equity and a full-time seat are the intent.

WHAT'S REAL

No promises we cannot keep. You will always know where things stand.

Interested? Tell us what you have built.

Send a note, a portfolio, a repo, or a build. We will send back a demo.
